

UTAH 1088 NEWS

The Ultimate 24 Hour Experience!

2
0
0
5

U
T
A
H

1
0
8
8

FULL FIELD ONCE AGAIN!

We will once again have a full field for the 1088. The rally was first filled, and a standby list created in December 2004. Since that time we have had a number of roster changes. The latest coming the first week of May 2005.

It never ceases to amaze me how you folks support this event. . .and I thank you! As I have said from the very beginning, the 1088 is the greatest event in the country because of the folks that come to ride in it.

We'll certainly try our best to not disappoint you with what we have in store for this years fun and frivolity. And speaking of this years fun. There are 3 checkpoints. . .three alternate routes that offer very unusual opportunities for adventure. . .and 45 main routes bonus locations already in the computer.

It was pointed out to me this past year that the 1088 had finally become predictable, so the rider would not be returning for future events. Well, I can guarantee you that the 2005 rally will not be predictable.

Oh by the way, the individual that said the rally was predictable never finished higher than 31st.

The motorcycle breakdown is almost like it was years ago in rally riding. BMW has over 50% more entries than any other brand.

BMW	33
DUCATI	1
HD	2
HONDA	19
KAWASAKI	6
SUZUKI	2
TRIUMPH	1
YAMAHA	13

The state breakdown is as follows; 21 states and 3 provinces from our friends up north in Canada represented. We have folks from ME, MA, MD, NJ, NY, SC, and FL from the east coast coming out to play. As well as folks from PA, IA, IN, MN, MT, TX, CO, AZ, CA, NV, UT, OR, ID, and WA.

I'm thinkin' we have the makins' of a rally here folks.

Bits & Pieces

You need to bring your own maps of everything west of Kansas. . .bring at least 5 packs of film if you're using a Polaroid. . .we will once again be scoring the rally by bar code, so write neat & bring red felt pens. . .middle of the night distance between fuel stops is 174 miles, daylight hours slightly higher. . .and bring your warm riding gear cause it's gonna get cold at night!

Volume 14, Issue 1, May 2005

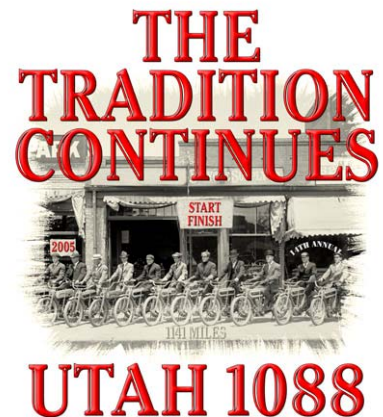

Photo Taken at Starting Line of Inaugural UTAH 1088

RSVP REQUIRED

Ok folks here's the deal. If you want to eat at the Bar B Q, or if you want to play golf, you've got to RSVP no later than June 1st, 2005.

My neighbors and I are used to a certain number of folks showing up for those pulled pork sandwiches, and so far we don't have 25% of that usual number signed up.

And I know what's going to happen come June 23rd. Someone is going to show up at the house and try to run the game that they RSVP'd. It won't work folks. I keep all copy, Email or hard copy. If I ain't got it, you don't eat. So please RSVP by June 1st.

See you in about 6 weeks!